Orchestra Gave Sunday Concert

Assisted by Singers from Hillcrest
in Opera House—Test
Piece Played

A concert was held in the Opera house on Sunday evening, by the amateur orchestral association. The hall was well filled, but the evening was somewhat marred by the noise of a number of young people whom the chairman had to call to order.

Assisting the orchestra were Miss Audrey Martin and Miss Annie Lepniuk, of Hillcrest, who gave soprano solos in very pleasing style, and little Agnes Truba in a character song. This little girl, a music pupil of Mrs. Salt, of Hillcrest, is quite a gifted and talented girl, whose easy and natural style won the house. Mr. A. Phillips, baritone, sang two songs in his usual fine style. A clarinet solo was given by Mr. A. Vereamen, and a violin solo by Mr. Defeo. Included in the orchestral numbers was the test piece played at the musical festival at Blairmore. The orchestra was under the leadership of Mr. Jas. M. Fulton, to whom credit is due for his efforts in conducting the orchestra, which is no easy task when it is considered that it is entirely amateur and volunteer work.

Miners Support Hockey Team

The hockey club, thanks the men of International and McGillivray mines for their contributions towards the play-off expenses, $121.35 being received from McGillivray and $89.50 from the International. The wind-up meeting for the season will be held next Monday evening and officers appointed for the ensuing year. It is reported that several new players are in sight for next year's team, and the boys are very ambitious to put a good team in the league with a view to reaching the finals in the provincial play-offs.

An interesting event at Vermilion during the past week was the presentation by Hon. R. G. Westminster Singers Here on Tuesday

Fine Singing Organization That Has Visited Coleman Will Give Brilliant Concert

The vestry of St. Alban's church is to be commended for its enterprise in contracting with the management of the Westminster Singers to appear here. The opportunity to hear high-class artists comes very seldom, therefore not only is it inspirational and entertaining, but educational as well.

Mr. Edward Branscombe, organizer and director of their British Empire tour, was for ten years a singer at Westminster Abbey, and the soloists are Donald Reid (Westminster Abbey) William Lowry, (Christchurch Cathedral) James Davis (St. Paul's Cathedral) Ernest McKinley (the Scottish tenor) James Barber (exhibitionist Royal College of Music) Albert C. Greene, (principal London concert) Chas. Draper (operative exhibitionist Royal College of Music).

The boy sopranos are Laurence Baldwin, Edwin Brazier, Vincent Petley, Douglas Bartrip, Harry Fearn, Alan Gooder and Sydney Walls, from the principal London church choirs.

This Man is Happy!

"I have not any kick to write about—the government treat me fine and if I did not like the job I would quit. The honor of being postmaster of a place like Savary Island is more than enough recompense, and I am glad to be alive and well and able to answer all the fool questions a postmaster has to contend with, without expecting to be paid for it!"—Yours sincerely, H. M. Keifer, Savary Island, B.C.

Over Two Hundred Trains Daily

The glass covered passenger train used at Windsor Station, Montreal.

The largest in Canada and comparing very favorably with some of the best in the United States, the Montreal Terminal of the Canadian Pacific Railway has 10 miles of main track, 15 switching and delivery yards, over 300 private industrial sidings and three interchange tracks with other railways, making a total of over 250 miles of track. An average of 125 passenger and 100 freight trains enter and leave the terminal varying at different seasons. Nearly 6,000 freight and passenger cars are moved daily. 51 transfer and yard engines are in service 24 hours of the day and frequently additional locomotives are required. Between 3200 and 3600 men are employed continuously.

There are two large passenger yards, Glen Yard at Westmount, and Place Viger, of which the former is the larger and more important since it takes care of all incoming and outgoing trains to and from the West. At Glen Yard, 100 trains enter and leave the Windsor station and an average of 40 Place Viger. This means that 65 outgoing trains at least, have to be switched daily, their cars made ready, inspected, watered, loaded and cleaned in preparation for their journeys.

Freight traffic is more difficult to handle than passenger. Of the 15 switching and delivery yards, Sotin, Outremont and Hochelaga are the largest. Incoming trains are taken in the receiving yard; outgoing in the transhipping yard and cars held for orders or repairs in the hold and repair yard.

An important feature of freight traffic is the prompt placing of all loaded cars onto the various private sidings, public team tracks and freight and rail yards throughout the city so that grain can be consigned to the elevator. Prompt placing of empty cars for loading is another important feature, as is also prompt movement of cars loaded in the receiving yards. Prompt placing of empty cars for loading is another important feature, as is also prompt movement of cars loaded in the receiving yards. During the navigation season an average of 400 cars loaded with wheat are taken from the elevators and sent to be unloaded. Further, during the grain marketing season, there is always an average of 1,000 cars of grain on hand.

Heavy traffic must constantly attention to have maximum safety. In main line tracks, 100 miles of steel and rock-ballasted rails were laid in the main line and yard tracks during 1927 without causing a minute's delay to traffic. There are four engine houses on the terminals, each with stall for four engines and each engine has 180 tons of coal dispatched every 24 hours for passenger and freight trains. There are on the terminals 226 buildings, 126 bridges and culverts and many hundreds of drains along the right-of-way.

Governor General to Visit Province

Mayor Burns to Meet Miners Committee

His Excellency Lord Willingdon, Governor General of Canada, accompanied by Lady Willingdon, will make a brief visit to Edmonton and Calgary during the coming week on his way to and from the International Convention of Education which he will attend at Victoria, B.C.

Mayor Burns was delegated by a meeting of rink and swimming pool committees to interview representatives of the miners union on Sunday to discuss a proposed arrangement whereby free skating would be allowed to everybody in Coleman during the winter season when the rink is in operation.

The rink has proved a very fine asset to the town, as also has the swimming pool, and it is felt that much greater use will be made of them if the proposed arrangement can be made between the various organizations interested, and at the same time the individual expense will be materially reduced.

Prisoner For Eight Years

Russian Boy Punished By Father For Joining Red Army

A story of an eight-year imprisonment of a boy by his father in a pit near their hut in the village of Savchukovo, Kursk province, has been brought to Moscow. In 1918 young Tarassoff joined the Red Army and three years later returned to his native village filled with enthusiasm for the new order. His reactionary father told him "the red army must be赶ed out of the Cossacks and you must not support it."

According to the report, that night old Tarassoff dug a deep cave in his garden and binding his son hand and foot threw him into the pit apparently to keep him there until the return of the old order. Recently the father died and the villagers, chancing upon the living grave, extricated the worn and wrinkled man who although only 29 years of age had snow white hair. He was said to have been placed in a hospital.

PAINS IN THE BACK

These Are Usually Due To a Weakened Condition Of The Blood

The muscles of the back are constantly under heavy strain, and have but little rest throughout the day, and as a result in most of all cases nourishment and strength is lacking. Unless they have this help, we will have backache and continue to have it.

Backache seldom or never means kidney trouble. It is nothing more than the tired, without muscles of back, which is caused by lack of blood.

The one generally recognized efficient blood builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When taken regularly through the course of this medicine backache disappears.

Mrs. F. Fairhurst, Essex, Ont., tells what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her: "I suffered from backache—

"—I suffered for nearly three years—with a weak back. At times the pains were so bad that I had to walk half-dressed over. I had tried various doctors, but none could find a cause.

A friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so, and, the joy of once more being able to stand up straight again was beyond expression.

After using two boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I used eight boxes in all and have not since had a sign of backache.

I have been doing hard house work and not feel tired and without formerly. For all this I thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

If you desire similar results keep them on hand for them by mail at Soc-titid.

Monarchy Divides Germany

Many Incidents Show People Still Cling To Old System Of Rule

Many incidents are constantly happening in Germany to show that the people are still sharply and incurably divided over the question of the monarchy. At Breslau a motion before the city council to remove the statues of three former emperors, including the ex-emperor, and to place them in honor of revolutionaries has aroused bitter fight but was passed by a vote of 40 to 38. At Nimptsch, Silesia, when guests entered a hall on the occasion of a state dinner the portraits on the walls of three former emperors were seen to be covered. This precipitated a sharp quarrel and conflict which broke up the party.

Shipping Is Handicapped

On account of an outer and inner bar across the channel connecting Lake Maracaibo with the Gulf of Venezuela, only vessels drawing less than 12 feet of water can enter the port, with the result that but two shipping companies, one American and one Dutch, maintain a weekly passenger and freight service between New York and Maracaibo.

Authorities of Pretoria Zoo have commissioned Captain Burnett Hartshorn, the inventor of the so-called "mercy bullet," to carry out this task.

Canada's Future

In a very fine address to Mr. Graham Spry, secretary of the Association of Canadian Clubs, and printed in "The Canadian Nation," the subject of Canadian unity is dealt with under the title "Our Nation, The Culture," which was likewise the heading over the article appearing in the publication last week. In fact, last week's article was inspired by Mr. Spry's address.

In his speech, Mr. Spry urged that, above all, the two Canadian races should be frank with each other, speak out their feelings freely and courageously, and attack that underlying menace, the fear, the suspicion which ignorance breeds; and "working for common national ends, working the same national institutions, and developing the same national estate, they will learn to know each other, to recognize each as a Canadian, to feel a sense, not of fear, but of partnership." Then he said:

"Our nation, two cultures; one loyalty, two races; one partnership, two tongues, on this Dominion of Canada is founded, on this the partnership rests by solemn contract, by mutual trust. And thus it must abide or perish. Let it abide, and the nation will grow greater, and the world richer that two races, full of spirit, rich in the heritage that time endows, a tongue, a culture, each their own and shared at times in common, may live in amity as one, secure, serene, partners in the development of the noble estate to which we are fortunate successors. Let it fail, let race seek to dominate race, let prejudice take its rein and ride rough shod 'through the fine bonds that unite us and Confederation shall perish, and the peoples of Canada be thrust towards a future, dark and impenetrable."

Looking back over the sixty-odd years of Confederation, can any one imagine what the position of the present Dominion of Canada would have been if the Canadian people of both races in 1867 not agreed to sink their differences and agree upon compromise policies and enter into a solemn compact with each other, both for the present and the future. Had such agreement not been reached there would have been no Confederation Had there been no Confederation what would in all likelihood be the position and status of British North America today?

Would it be British? It is extremely doubtful. Long ere this it is highly probable that large sections of what is now Canada would have become merged in the United States. Certain it is that falling Confederation, the isolated Crown colonies would have remained weak, undeveloped. Instead, we have a great and prosperous Dominion, rapidly forging to the front as one of the great nations of the world, a tower of strength to the Empire, and already exerting no mean influence in the councils of the nations. The union effected by the solemn guarantees of the act of Confederation was not alone the creation of the Dominion; it was the salvation of the country at large.

Not only must the letter of that contract be lived up to, but the spirit must be observed.

Failure on the part of the Canadian people, whether of British or French extraction, to recognize both the letter and the spirit of the union effected by Confederation will be fatal to its existence. And if Confederation fails, what are we to put in its place? Confederation is weakened by sniping tactics on the part of one race against the other, and if Confederation is weakened it may perish.

On the other hand, cordial acceptance of the spirit of the Confederation pact, which we all laud annually on Dominion Day, will add strength to the structure, and enable a united Canadian people to resist all attacks upon their sovereignty and develop in peace their great heritage.

As Mr. Graham Spry truly states, any other future for Canada but that bound up in full acceptance of terms and spirit of the Confederation pact is indeed dark and impenetrable.

SAYS WORLD IS APPROACHING A FINANCIAL CRISIS

London, Eng.—Sir George Palsh, British financier and economist, who recently predicted the world was approaching a financial crisis, considers the 20 per cent call money rate reached on the New York Stock Exchange a possible forerunner of the crisis, he told the United Press.

The white-haired authority on world economic conditions pointed to recent bank rates in various countries as indications that the world was suffering from what he termed "financial sickness."

"I am no prophet, however," he said. "I am simply an interested observer attempting to diagnose the world's financial troubles. In my recent speech at Manchester, I simply called attention to a situation which I have been watching develop for some time past."

The world in general was over-borrowing, with the possible exception of South America, Sir George said. He emphasized "the utter folly" of various nations erecting tariff barriers which would prevent reimbursement of their mutual debts.

"It is of very great moment," he said, "that the situation should be surveyed not only by bankers and business men but by statesmen as well, in order that a collection effort may be made to avert a still more dangerous situation than now exists."

High money rates in America since the middle of last year have been a notification to the world in general that America's power to lend has become much smaller and it is obvious that still higher rates of interest now current in America and the effort of American bankers to restrict credit already granted in the states themselves imply an almost total cessation of American credit to outside countries," Sir George said.

"Moreover, a high rate of interest cannot fail to affect American business adversely. If it is borne in mind that the great quantity of credit granted by the United States until the present time has been mainly responsible for the maintenance of world prices for commodities at the present level it is obvious that restriction of this credit must bring about a general fall of prices with consequences to producers throughout the world that cannot easily be measured."

The situation would be exceedingly difficult if the volume of credit already granted were of such dimensions but, having regard to the vast amount of credit that has been granted throughout the world, it is obvious that restriction of American credit at the present time in the manner that seems probable cannot fail to cause a great world wide monetary stringency which in turn, cannot fail to have serious consequences to both credit and business."

Disastrous Prairie Fire

Large Strip Of Country Swept Bare By Flames

Regina.—A prairie fire started northwest of Neudeville, Sask., destroyed thousands of acres of pasture, the buildings on three farms and was responsible for a man being sent to the hospital at Medicine Hat, where his wounds, though serious, are not thought to be fatal.

A strip of country about ten miles wide and twenty-five miles long was swept bare. At its closest to the main line of the C.P.R. it was ten miles away, north of Topkings.

John Campbell lost his barn and outbuildings and had to go to his stock some of this being singed while running through the fire. His loss is estimated at $1,000.

John Fisher and family were driven from their home, which was destroyed by the flames, and are staying with neighbors. Mr. Fisher also lost all his buildings and feed, and outbuildings, and had to go to his stock some of this being singed while running through the fire. His loss is valued at $1,500.

American Soldier Reported "Killed In Action" Asks To Be Declared Alive

Santa Rosa, Cal.—Thomas R. Smith, of this city, reported "killed in action" during the World War, is very much alive and has appealed to the American Legion in an effort to have himself declared so.

For 10 years the government has been insisting that Smith's sister, Mrs. Nellie Johnson of this city, accept $10,000 in war risk insurance for her brother's "death."

Mrs. Johnson and her brother both steadfastly refuse to admit he is "dead," and now Smith has asked the American Legion to aid in straightening out the records at Washington.

Train Crew Arrested

Responsible For Wreck At Drocourt According To Coroner's Finding

Parry Sound, Ont.—Responsibility for the wreck of two Canadian National trains at Drocourt with a death toll of at least fourteen was placed on the crew of the northbound train No. 3 in the written verdict of Special Coroner J. B. Broughton.

Criminal proceedings were at once instituted against the three surviving members of the crew and charges of manslaughter were laid against Edward V. Alexander, Fireman E. Riley and Rear End Brakeman Charles Gorrie.

The arrest of the three trainmen followed the verdict of the coroner's inquest on the death of Horace Smith, one of the victims of the wreck. According to the verdict the collision of the two fast trains was due to the neglect of the crew of Train No. 3 in running past the meeting place at which they had orders to stop.

It is expected the three accused trainmen will appear for trial at the spring assizes, which open here May 14.

MARSHAL FOCH IS BURIED WITH IMPRESSIVE RITES

Paris.—Marshall Foch was laid to rest near the tomb of Napoleon. More than a million heads bowed as the great soldier was borne on a gun carriage from the stately Gothic nave of Notre Dame Cathedral to the simple and severe chapel of the Invalides.

Church and State, separated in France for more than twenty years, united for the day to provide the devout Christian soldier with a national funeral unparalleled in pomp and magnificence. The world has seldom seen its like before and it is not probable that such a show of solemn splendor will be repeated in this age.

The Republic of France and the Church of Rome were joined by ten nations whose armies Foch commanded in the greatest of wars in heaping honors upon the bier of the modest master of ten million warriors.

Most of the civilian world was represented at the church funeral ceremony, and the carriage was mounted with military pomp, the procession through the streets and squares of Paris from Notre Dame to the golden dome of the Invalides.

The great outpouring of people who watched the funeral procession, provided the crowning stone of the great edifice of honor and love which a grateful nation and friendly peoples of other lands have steadily built to the greatest glory of Foch's name since the day he was chosen from all military commanders of the Allies to lead 10,000,000 fighting men under 10 flags.

Premier Poincare, who was present at the funeral, said in his brief funeral address that Foch had had no other ambition than to serve, and had wished no other recompense than the assurance of having accomplished his duty.

Chinese Law Courts Busy With Divorces

Number of Cases Greatly Increased Under Nationalist Rule

Shanghai.—Divorce has come to China to stay. With the National Government more firmly entrenched and the women of the country quickly seizing their newly found freedom, the Chinese law courts daily are handling an increasing number of divorce actions.

Last year a record was set in Shanghai courts with a total of more than 1,400 divorces, a gain of more than 900 over 1927. In 1926, before the establishment of Nationalist rule in Shanghai, divorces failed to reach the hundred mark.

Survey of the 1928 divorces based on statistics compiled by the United Press, reveals that spring and summer are the "big" seasons, with fall and winter trailing quite a distance behind.

More than 60 per cent. of 1928's divorces were filed between May 1 and September 30, the remaining 40 per cent. in the other seven months of the year. December wound up with 75 cases, just a little more than 5 per cent. of the year's total.

Lightning Strikes Peace Tower

Electric Storm At Ottawa Turned Day Into Night

Ottawa.—Batteries of a recent severe electric storm centred on Parliament Hill and lightning playing directly over the building struck the Peace Tower and caused the mighty pile of granite to shudder with the shock.

Lightning conductors prevented any serious damage. Only the tower elevator was put out of order. A second blinding flash struck at the southeast corner of the centre block, just above the rooms of the press correspondents, causing some consternation. There was no damage here, however.

The storm made the day as dark at night.

To Study Tourist Traffic

New Subject Taken Up At German Academy Of Commerce

Berlin.—Scientific research of tourism, including particularly a study of its causes and its social, political and economic effects, has been added to the curriculum of the Academy of Commerce of Berlin.

Transportation methods, hotel management and the work of exposition and fair will also be studied, while special courses will be arranged for directors and managers of hotels, spas, fairs and so forth. A library dealing with the subject is to be assembled by the academy.

Appointed Poultry Promoter

Regina, Sask.—Appointment of W. H. McLellan, Saskatoon, as provincial poultry promoter, effective May 1, was announced by Hon. C. M. Hamilton, minister of agriculture. Mr. Hamilton said the appointment was made on the recommendation of the Saskatchewan Poultry Breeders' Association, in recognition of the growing importance of the industry in the province.

TEST SHIPMENT OF GARNET WHEAT TO GREAT BRITAIN

OTTAWA, ONT.—BETWEEN 4,000 AND 5,000 BUSHELS OF GARNET WHEAT IS BEING PUT INTO SACKS AT FORT WILLIAMS

Shanghai.—Divorce has come to China to stay. With the National Government more firmly entrenched and the women of the country quickly seizing their newly found freedom, the Chinese law courts daily are handling an increasing number of divorce actions.

It was first planned to ship 10,000 bushels in an open cargo after consideration by the Wheat Pool which is looking after the arrangements of agriculture and the Dominion department of agriculture, it was decided to bag about half the amount and ship that instead. The wheat will go to London and from there be distributed to British millers and a representative miller in Germany.

The department of agriculture officials expect that complete reports will be available before the 1929 crop is ripe.

It was explained at the department that all the reports so far from both Britain and the United States have been satisfactory to Garnet wheat. The Canadian millers, however, have not been so favorable to this early ripening variety with the result that it has never been graded as No. 1. In many parts of the prairies the Garnet, because of its big yield and early ripening qualities, is the favored variety, and if it can take its place alongside of Marquis No. 1 it will mean much to the producers.

The department officials are confident that the report will be favorable because Garnet is a very hard wheat and it is believed will prove just the blend the British millers require to give the "punch" to the softer grades they import from other parts of the world. The present shipment will enable a thorough test by Canada's wheat customers.

MATTER OF SHIP SINKING TURNED OVER TO VINCENT MASSEY BY BRITISH ENVY

Washington.—An enquiry into the sinking of the steamship "Tim Alone" in the Gulf of Mexico by a United States coastguard patrol has resolved itself into a question for settlement between the Canadians and United States governments.

Sir Ernest Howard, the British ambassador at Washington, who had made the original enquiries at the state department concerning the sinking of the vessel, informed the United States government that the ship was of Canadian registry and replied to his enquiries should be addressed to Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian minister at Washington. All discussion will henceforth be conducted between the Canadian and United States governments.

Giant German Ocean Liner Is Prey Of Flames

HAMBURG, GERMANY.—THE MYSTERY OF THE GREAT FIRE WHICH VIRTUALLY DESTROYED THE NEW NORTH GERMAN LLOYD LINER Europa, WHICH WAS EXPECTED TO HAVE AN IMPACT ON THE NORTH ATLANTIC TRAFFIC WAS

The Europa, a 40,000-ton vessel, was being built for five-day service with the Bremen between New York and the English Channel, and was considered a challenge to the Cunard White Star and Hamburg American lines.

The ship caught fire while a few workmen were aboard her. She was scheduled to make her maiden voyage in July and construction was nearing completion when the fire broke out suddenly.

Cause of the fire probably never will be known, it was said, since it started in four places simultaneously deep in the hold. Experts did not believe it was arson, however.

The vessel was insured for $40,000 marks (about $9,500,000) but the loss was estimated at about $60,000 marks (about $11,800,000). Shipyard engineers claimed later, however, that the damage was not that large.

Although the ship was not a total loss several experts said it would be useless to rebuild it. The North German Lloyd Company was expected to refuse to accept it from the builders, Blohm and Voss.

The fire was spectacular. Starting before dawn, it was not brought under control until 3 p.m. The boilers, machinery, hull and lower decks escaped the fire.

None of the few workmen aboard when the fire started were injured, but a fireman was overcome. Eight hundred men were thrown out of work by the fire.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

To develop business one must be constantly on the alert. Keeping in touch with prospective and existing customers by means of the printed word or by circular or personal letters is necessary in most lines of business. Competition is too keen for a man to expect to even retain customers without making special effort to keep them interested in what he has to sell. And for the constant maintenance of contact between merchant and customer in either city or town or village, there is no medium so effective and efficient as the newspapers. Sitting on the counter or looking gloomily out of the store window will not bring business. Take a lesson from the catalogue with its brightly colored descriptive matter, and try a little of the same stuff along similar lines in your local newspaper. Show the customers you mean business, that you are really after it.

The difficulty in holding free Sunday evening concerts is that a large number of children and youths take advantage of the occasion as a place to fill in the time instead of on the street corners or at the usual hang-outs. If they would keep quiet and permit others to enjoy the concert, there would be no fault to find, but they are a nuisance to others and show an utter lack of culture or breeding, even to the extent of not knowing enough of gentlemanly conduct to take off their hats without being told. Lack of parental control is in a measure responsible for the bad manners of the children. The most effective remedy to avoid annoyance to others is to admit children only when accompanied by their parents.

It is very pleasing to note that every year Coleman sends an increasing number of competitors to the musical festival at Blairmore. It denotes ambition on the part of parents and their children and that they are aiming at some of the higher and better things of life. It costs money to give children music lessons, but it is money invested wisely and in return it brings lasting pleasure and helps to make a child or adult more accomplished.

Weather conditions reminded one more of Christmas than Easter, and the glorious opportunity that Easter usually affords to the ladies to appear in their spring millinery and stylish spring dresses was entirely out of the question this year. However, people will not be denied these pleasures and there is not the least doubt that the first spell of fine weather will see the usual display of finery among the fair sex.

Some music one hears is indeed a pleasure. But there is altogether too much of the kind that one would prefer to get away from as far as possible. If people who imagine they can play or sing would get a friendly critic to tell them the truth, the public might be saved some misery.

Western Canada loses a notable figure in the death of Sir Hugh John Macdonald, who passed off the scene of earthly activities last week, at the age of almost eighty years. Much of his life was given in public service, which naturally robs a man of many opportunities to enrich himself in the pursuit of business affairs, but he leaves to the people a far better example of an unselfish life than those who live with only their own selfish objects in view. Winnipeg has known Sir Hugh for many a year. Many a kindly action has he performed in an unostentatious manner, and a very fine tribute was paid to him by Sir Arthur Meighen, who for many years lived in Portage la Prairie, Man. Sir Arthur stated that in times of discouragement or in times of triumph, he never failed to receive a kindly word of encouragement or commendation from his old friend. Many in humble walks of life have been recipients of the same kindly feeling, and there is no finer tribute to a man when he passes than that of being mourned as a valued citizen and an honourable gentleman.

This is the time of year to clean away the refuse and ashes from backyards and lanes. Also rubbish and useless material should be disposed of, for a general clean-up reduces the fire hazards. Very soon the spring Clean-up and Paint-up campaign will commence, in fact the process should continue throughout the summer.

One might state with truth that there are two seasons here—winter and summer. We try to make ourselves believe that spring is here, but temperatures of twelve degrees above zero in April tell a different story. But then summer is liable to develop overnight. Last year, May 24 was one of the hottest days of the year, and mosquitoes were very active.

The big business success is made up of little success along the line, and also the big fault or failure is made up of a succession of minor faults.

French Canadians have been slightly stronger "alcoholics" than Americans, but there seems little to support the reputation in the recent announcement that they are the world's greatest telephone users. According to the latest statistics, 1,529,867 telephone lines in Canada, recently published statistics disclose, allowing for a phone for every eight persons, in all the conversations that took place during the past year were placed end to end they would be heard in Mars, for every citizen had on an average of 221 conversations during 1928. Presumably this does not include wrong numbers.

One of Montreal's first big buildings that was demolished to make room for one of the latest skyscrapers downtown has appeared on an entirely new site, to the amazement of the public. The cost of the building was the demolition of which scarce a score of new stones were required to complete its reconstruction on its new lot.

Up to December 31, 1928 the Canadian Pacific had spent in construction and Canadian development work, land settlement, etc., nearly $86,000,000 of its own money.

A twenty dollar gold piece that was insured for a thousand dollars and that sold for twelve hundred, was recently shipped from Canada to the Pacific Express. The coin was one of seven struck by the government in the Cariboo district at the time of the gold rush, it being thought that it had been concealed and lost on the spot. This proved unscientific, however, and after seven pieces had been found the project was abandoned. The coin in question was shipped by the S.S. Monarch to a numismatist in England.

Over 97% of the total investments of the Canadian Pacific Railway and all its varied enterprises have been recovered.

Most fruits, except those indigenous to the tropics or sub-tropics, are now grown in British Columbia. Apples, apricots, cherries, peaches, plums, prunes, nectarines, figs, loganberries, raspberries, strawberries, grapes, almonds and other less hardy fruits and nuts are now grown commercially. Apples have been grown for 17 years, rising in volume of production from 220,000 to 3,000,000 bushels.

With 99 arrivals scheduled at the Port of Montreal and Quebec during the 1925 season, the Canadian Pacific set up a new record for one line sailing its ships via the St. Lawrence river. There were 94 arrivals and departures at Montreal and 25 at Quebec, the season opening with the arrival on April 20th of the liner "Empress of Ireland" from New York. The latter will be on her maiden voyage of the St. Lawrence. The first arrival at Quebec will be the "Empress of Scotland," May 4th, after a winter of cruising in the Mediterranean.

One little pig went to market, and low and behold there were eight little pigs when the shipment arrived. It was a sow, and en route seven little pigs were born. What a surprise for the express company should be the fact of the seven extra and unexpected pigs is a matter that has not been decided yet.

Thirty thousand tons of railway material—trucks and steel framing for box cars—will shortly leave Vancouver for the Orient, as a shipment for the Trans-Siberian Railway. The order for this material was placed thirteen years ago, but delivery was halted with the outbreak of the war between Japan and the equipment held in the Canadian Pacific Railway's yards at Coghill until conditions for delivery were more favorable.

Vancouver's growth since its incorporation in 1886 is revealed by the official estimate of the population of the new city by the government commission which places it at 228,193 for the city proper. A reliable but unofficial estimate of the population of the entire Greater Vancouver area is 325,000 exclusive of New Westminster. Greater Vancouver includes the City of North Vancouver, the districts of North Vancouver and the municipalities of Burnaby and West Vancouver. Great Vancouver and New Westminster jointly have a population of about 300,000 or about half the population of the entire province.

Alberta Muskrats Shipped to England

Ten pairs of live muskrats were shipped from Edmonton to England. This shipment, the first of its kind to be made from western Canada, will form the nucleus of breeding stock for a large English fur raising concern. The shipment was made by A. C. McFadyen who states that if this trial proves successful, several thousand more rats will be shipped through the next few months. Further evidence of the rapid growth of this industry is given by orders for breeding stock which Mr. McFadyen has recently received from Czechoslovakia.

“Oh yes,” he replied absently.

“You were gone for some time this morning she stated.

“Yes,” he concurred, “I went up to bring Connie.”

“Oh!”

Janet’s fine eyebrows lifted slightly, and she looked at Donald with a curious interest. “Why didn’t she come?”

“She wasn’t home.”

Her woman’s intuition long ago had told her that the “woodsprite”—as Donald called Connie—was madly in love with him. As she looked at him now and noticed his preoccupied air, a pang of jealousy shot through her heart like an arrow. Was it possible that he had begun to realize that the wild girl in the woods was not a child, and that a love for her had been kindled in his heart? The thought made her feel faint and she tried to put it from her mind.

Lunch was finished now and they were walking back to the lake. Douglas invited the party to take a trip around the lake in a motor-boat, to which they assented gleefully.

Janet hesitated as Donald turned away with Wainwright. “Aren’t you coming Mr. McLean?” she called.

Douglas turned and shook his head. “I may be needed here,” he said briefly.

Janet flushed to the roots of her dark hair and bit her lip in anger. She was not used to being denied in her desires.

Donald and Wainwright seated themselves on a bench under the willows and lighted cigarettes. Donald was ill at ease. The sound of Connie’s tragic sobbing was ringing in his ears. He could see her little figure writhing on the ground in a tempest of grief that had torn at his heart-strings. He sprang involuntarily to his feet and began pacing the ground with quick, nervous strides. Wainwright glanced up at him interrogatively.

“You seem worried,” he volunteered.

“I am,” Donald admitted briefly. Donald was in a welter of indecision. How should he broach this delicate subject? Although poor as the proverbial church mouse, Connie’s father had the pride of London. There was natural dignity in his bearing, a certain aloofness in his manner, that in no way interfered with his unfailing courtesy, but had always precluded exchange of intimacies. He had resided in this wilderness for many years, but none could say that they had any more knowledge of his affairs at this moment than on the day of his arrival.

Donald decided to take the plunge. He sat down on the bench beside Connie’s father and related the scene he had witnessed that morning—or Connie’s preening before the mirror with the magazine page pinned to the咯; of the struggle with her hair; of the flour sack, and of the piteous sobbing of the heart-broken child.

Wainwright’s face flushed painfully. There was a look of poignant suffering in his grave eyes. Of all the races of the world, the English—especially of the lower classes—felt most stoically to hide their distress.

“I hope you do not consider me presumptuous,” said Donald, a touch of impatience in his tone.

Wainwright leaned forward, his throat working convulsively as he struggled to regain composure.

“I hope you do not consider me presumptuous,” said Donald, a touch of impatience in his tone.

Wainwright’s hand reached forth to clasp Donald’s firmly. “No, I do not doubt your sincerity. An inordinate sense of pride has kept me in my present circumstances. This circumstance you have related has brought me to a realization that it is a selfish pride, as it has denied Connie the privileges to which she is entitled. There is nothing I can say,” he went on in bitter self-condemnation, “that can even partially condone or palliate my stupidity. I should have known that she would require proper clothing now that she is grown up. As a matter of fact—I paused, his distress acute—“my finances are at a low ebb.”

“Nineteen.”

Donald’s head came up with a jerk. “What!” he almost shouted.

“She is nineteen,” Wainwright reiterated, a peculiar expression in his eyes as he noticed Donald’s bewilderment.

“Nineteen!” Donald re-echoed, a bemused look on his face. “Great Scott! This is a surprise. I thought Connie as being not more than fourteen or fifteen.”

Connie was unknown to the greatest part of the crowd. To them this child-like equanimity, with her mass of shining hair, appeared as an apparition. Her firm little hands soon checked her turbulent mount, who stood trembling with nervousness.

The crowd gave her a rousing welcome as soon as they had recovered from their astonishment.

“Who is she? Where does she come from?” they shouted.

Connie kept her eyes fixed on the ground. She was outwardly calm and inwardly she was as nervous as her fretting cayuse, and did not dare raise her flushed face to meet the battery of eyes around her.

THINNESS

amid hearty hand-clapping and shouting from their friends. A swarthy-skinned rider, mounted on a spangled black cayuse, came prancing through the crowd. He lifted his hat and smiled in acknowledgment of the plaudits of the spectators. This was Joe Lafonte, the half-breed who had won first prize at the Lillooet races for the past two seasons.

The wise ones agreed that Paul John, of the Indian contingent, would give him a hard race. Paul John’s cause was young, but the previous year he had run the half-breed horse a close second. Money was being placed on all sides, particularly by the Indians, who are inveterate gamblers. Amid an excited babble in Chinook, nine Indian riders came laughing and shouting, with much waving of hats, to prance about and display their horsemanship before the admiring crowd.

Donald, with Andy, Gillis and Wainwright, stood leaning over the edge of the judges’ stand watching the animated scene below.

At this moment there was an agitation at the far end of the oval, where the crowd opened to admit a horse and rider that came tearing down the course like the wind.

“Look!” Donald shouted excitedly as he seized Wainwright’s arm. “It’s Connie!”

Down the course, riding like a spirit of the woods, came the girl, her golden hair blowing about her face, her setting astride her mettlesome horse and riding as if the wilderness belonged to her alone.

Pegasus was not used to crowds. With arched neck and quivering flanks he reared in his hind-legs to point an instant, then leaped forward like a rabbit. Connie sat at the bare back of her adored cayuse as though a part of the animal, her slender body moving in gentle undulations in perfect co-ordination with the movements of the horse. She was hard set, however, and the other riders who followed her sat mouths agape.

Connie was unknown to the greatest part of the crowd. To them this child-like equanimity, with her mass of shining hair, appeared as an apparition. Her firm little hands soon checked her turbulent mount, who stood trembling with nervousness.

The crowd gave her a rousing welcome as soon as they had recovered from their astonishment.

“Who is she? Where does she come from?” they shouted.

Connie kept her eyes fixed on the ground. She was outwardly calm and inwardly she was as nervous as her fretting cayuse, and did not dare raise her flushed face to meet the battery of eyes around her.

Automobile Is Real Benefit To Humanity

Curse Is Man Who Does Not Use It Wisely

The automobile, in itself, cannot be a curse to anyone. The curse of the automobile is that of the human element, of the man who does not know how to use wisely an instrument of real benefit to humanity.

Unfortunately the human element cannot always be controlled. There always will be those who use automobiles for law-breaking purposes, and who drive them so recklessly as to endanger the lives of other people.

If all automobile owners and drivers were imbued with a real sense of their responsibility to their fellow men, there would be very few accidents and there would be no need of judges or anyone else having to make remarks derogatory to a machine that has become an essential part of this country’s life.

Resident Of Vancouver, Through Death Of Cousin, Becomes a Baronet

A second Canadian romance of the British peerage within recent weeks has come to light in Vancouver in the succession of Eric Windham Francis Carmichael-Anstruther, to the baronetcy of Carmichael and Anstruther.

The Vancouver man, now Sir Eric Windham Francis Carmichael-Anstruther, baron, has left for the family seat, Carmichael House, Therton, Lanarkshire, Scotland, to settle there in connection with the estate following the death of his cousin, Sir Francis Carmichael-Anstruther, bart.

Sir Eric expects to be in the old country about three months, after which it is his intention to return to Vancouver, where he has been employed as a draftsman for the past three years.

Sir Eric comes of a very old Scottish family which traces its ancestry for 700 years. He will be the 11th baronet of Anstruther created in Scotland in 1700, and eighth of Carmichael, created in England, in 1798. According to a directory of titled persons he will also assume the honor of hereditary carver of the royal household in Scotland and one of the masters of the household.

Dr. Baernstein’s “Thinking” apparatus consists of numerous switches, wires and an incandescent light.

The mechanism, he said, is so arranged that the bulb may be lighted by one of the switches and that any of the other switches may be “taught” to light the bulb. The operation he claims, is analogous to the presentation of stimuli.

“The machine,” Dr. Baernstein declared, “is merely a symbol of mechanism of the human body.”

Externally Or Internally. It is given with rubber, externally by rubbing. Dr. Baernstein says:

Oil opens the pores and penetrates the tissue, touching the seat of the trouble and immediately affording relief. Afterward, the patient will find the irritation in the throat which induces coughing and will relieve affections of the bronchial tubes and respiratory organs. Try it and be convinced.

“Yes, but his hair is gone.”

Bitter stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually need excess acid. Phillips’ Milk of Magnesia relieves over-acidity. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines hurt.

Alkaline Milk instantly.

Phillips’ Milk of Magnesia

neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 60 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your uncomfortable condition will disappear in five minutes. Then you always know what to do. Crude and harmful method will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your sake.

It may save you many disappointments.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips’ Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acidity. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggists.

Inventor’s Claim Unusual

Wisconsin Chemist Says His Mechanical Device Can Be Taught

Claim that he has invented a mechanical device which is capable of being “taught” is made by Dr. H. D. Baernstein of the University of Wisconsin physiological chemistry department, following a challenge issued six months ago by C. L. Hull, professor of psychology at the state school.

Dr. Baernstein’s “Thinking” apparatus consists of numerous switches, wires and an incandescent light.

The mechanism, he said, is so arranged that the bulb may be lighted by one of the switches and that any of the other switches may be “taught” to light the bulb. The operation he claims, is analogous to the presentation of stimuli.

Here and There

To meet increased trade and passenger traffic on the waters of the Pacific coast, two new vessels of the "Princess" type for night service between Vancouver and Victoria have been ordered by the Canadian Pacific Railway. It has been announced by Captain C. D. Nuttall, manager of the British Columbia Coast Steamship Services.

A new carrier and telephone system for Canadian Pacific purposes will shortly be in operation across Canada, it was stated recently in Winnipeg by Mr. John McMillan, general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railways Telegraphs, who was in charge of the work. This greatly supplements the facilities already used.

Since the world war the Canadian Pacific has constructed 1,186 miles of new railway track, most of which opened up new territories and developed new areas of country for settlement and industrial activity.

An average of twenty-seven pounds of bread is eaten each day by every man, woman and child in Canada, it has been discovered by the Dominion, the largest consumer of bread in the world. The per capita consumption is ten pounds greater than that of the United States. No light is thrown upon the number of slices of bread eaten by hungry Canadians.

The sweetest news received in Canada for some time was the opening of the McLaughlin-Buick Industries Fair in London that two minutes after its opening an order had been placed for $50,000 worth of honey.

Santa Claus must be establishing a stable somewhere in this country as it is reported that a consignment of 80 live Swedish Reindeer was recently shipped to Canada. It was the largest shipment of these animals ever to be made.

The recent announcement that a new Dominion Atlantic Railway hotel is to be built at Kentville has been received with enthusiasm, not only among the citizens of Kentville, but the general travelling public as well in Nova Scotia. At the same time the Dominion Atlantic Railway was the object of great deal of favorable comment in the west as it is playing in developing Nova Scotia as a tourist ground and the Annapolis Valley.

A taxidermist must be a skilled sculptor and a student of anatomy, said Mr. G. L. Pap, well known local taxidermist and sportsman who visited Montreal recently.

To give a true and life-like appearance to specimens a full-size model of the animal is constructed. From this a plaster cast is made and a paper-mache model formed to turn from this.

When the skin of the animal is carefully glued shows every feature and conformation of the animal's body.

Here are three important reasons

McLAUGHLIN-BUICK'S famous cantilever springs—the most expensive type of spring employed on any car in the world, coupled with the famous McLaughlin-Buick quietude drive—are designed solely for comfort, not for transmission of power, and provide the maximum degree of riding restfulness.
